7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

1. Pragmatic approach: College has always given due importance to the pragmatic approach. The students are not only provided the best by the faculty members prescribed in the syllabus but they are provided practical training whenever and wherever necessary. The final year students are compulsorily asked to visit court and observe the proceedings along with the chamber visit of the renowned advocate. The students are given 100 percent by the subject teacher but it is not fruitful unless and until it is having any practical implementation. Thus the college always arranged special guest lecturers of the persons who are actually engaged in their professional career successfully. They used to interact the students and share their valuable experiences with the students. The practical approach also includes the educational and institutional visits. The visits to the Supreme Court, High court, District court, Family court, Police station visit, Forensic Science lab visit, Central jail visit etc. are arranged every year for the students to know the actual working of these Government institutions to have nexus with their curriculum. Special guest lecture series is organized by the student welfare committee to give career counseling and guidance for competitive examinations to the law college students.

2. Law is exclusively related with the society. The mission of our law college is "To offer to society Makers and Upholders of Law Instilling in to them the Virtues of Integrity, Loyalty and Social Values." We are very glad to announce that Navjeevan Law College is now recognized to open official legal aid clinic by Maharashtra state Legal services authority Mumbai. The legal aid clinic was inaugurated on 16th of Feb. 2016 at the auspicious hands of hon. Arun M. Dhavle, PDJ and Chairman DLSA Nashik. Since then the legal aid clinic is successfully started under the guidance of Mr. J. C. Shirsale Rtd. District Sessions Judge Nahik. The final year students are divided in to batches so that they can help the faculty member the experts while giving legal aid and counseling the poor and needy persons. Regular legal aid camps are arranged in the rural areas to give legal knowledge to the people who are not aware about their rights and they are acquainted with the laws applicable in their disputes and the various schemes available by the Government for the poor and needy persons. National Service Scheme NSS is the effective activity conducted by Law College for the services oriented programs by the college for the society.
