Institutional Distinctiveness

Navjeevan Education Society's Navjeevan Law College is having a specific distinctiveness where the students are considered being center point of all the Law college activities. As the law college is situated in the area where the working class laborers are more in number the student always faced many problems which includes technological unawareness, vernacular medium problem, communication skill problem, presentation skill problem etc. The students who are coming from rural areas with the limited access could not cope up with the rapid pace of urban and collegiate environment with medium of instructions and examination being in English language. Moreover the entire syllabus is in English and the books available in the market related with law subjects are in English only. This is other vital drawback. It affects the comprehensive capacity of the student to grasp the spirit of the particular subject. This ultimately resulted in to the dropping out rate of some students from the law courses. The final result is also comparatively affected due to this major problem. To cope up with this problems Navjeevan Law College have taken special measures such as remedial teaching methods including extra English speaking and communication skill classes, personality development programs, exposure to the students to participate in various moot court, debate and elocution competitions organized by the college and other institutions. The students not having economic capacity to pay the fees of the college are provided full guidance for getting Government scholarship, Freeship and other fees concessions which includes paying of the total fees in installment also. Though the college is not having its own hostel but the students who are interested in taking admission are provided all necessary help to obtained admission in government / private hostel or private rooms on rent/ paying guest basis. The college is having placement cell and through the placement cell the students are guided for grabbing the various opportunities available in the law and other fields. Through this cell students are guided for the various competitive examinations including JMFC and CJJD examination. .
