Permanent Legal aid clinic is established in the college to provide legal aid and assistance to the needy and socially disabled people.

35. SWOC analysis of the department and Future plans

1. STRENGTH :-

- a) Legal profession is considered as a noble profession. To maintain the honour of the legal profession while providing good teaching, college always tries to imbibe into the students the rich values by arranging special Spiritual lectures, Personality Development programs and Yoga classes. The Mission of the college is to supply good quality lawyers to the society instilling into them social values and responsibility towards the society.
- b) The college has a qualified, full time dedicated faculty, highly efficient supporting non-teaching staff and a management always thinking of the good quality teaching and providing all facilities taking into consideration of the need and overall development of the students and staff. Majority of the Faculty members have registered themselves for Ph.D. and publishing articles in the peer reviewed journals.
- c) The college receives active co-operation from the Local Bar, Alumnus, Academicians and other professionals for conducting Guest Lectures, Seminar, Workshop and providing Practical Training to the students.
- d) The NSS and SWO wing of the college have been very active and participate with great enthusiasm in the activities like Swachhata Abhiyaan , Health awareness, Blood Donation, Disaster Management, Road safety, gender sensitization, Environment Pollution, Yoga & Meditation, Special Guest Lectures, Workshops, Awareness rallies in and around the college.
- e) More & More emphasis is given on Practical Training arranging visits from Apex Court to lower judiciary, Jail, Police Station and other Judicial and administrative offices in the country. The Students are motivated to participate in the Moot Court, debate and other competitions arranged by the different institutions. Seminars, Guest Lectures and Workshops are arranged to give updated knowledge about the recent trends in law to the students.
- f) Spacious Library, Reading Room with adequate no. of Text books, Reference Books, Journals, Magazines, and News Papers are available for the student's accession. Computers with Internet Facility, Library data base, LCD projector are made available to the students and Faculty for teaching, update their knowledge and for research proposes.

2. WEAKNESSES:-

- a) A lack of space which prevents the college from providing extra large space for the good infrastructural facilities to the students and sports activities.
- b) Majority of the students (almost 40% of the total strength) are coming from rural areas and completing their graduation from Local language/medium i.e. Marathi. English is the major problem for them for reading and writing Law, which hampers the result and ultimately increases the dropout rate.
- c) Admissions to 3 years law course (after graduation) is always full but the response to the 5 years law course (after 12th) is low (almost 50 % of the total sanction strength).

3. FUTURE PLANS: -

- a) Consulting with the Architect for maximum utilization of the available space for providing good and quality infrastructural facilities to the students.
- b) To fulfill the need of the new generation, the college is thinking to start New Diploma and Certificate courses affiliated to University and Private Institutions including Cyber Laws, Intellectual Property Law, Environmental Law, Forensic Science, Human Rights etc.
- c) To increase the admissions of 5 years integrated law course, various measures are to be taken including advertisement in the News Paper, arranging lectures in the various junior colleges explaining the importance and opportunities available after completion of the law course etc.
- d) To increase the area of activities of the Legal Aid Clinic. More & more Legal Aid Camps are arranged in and around the rural areas of Nashik to increase the legal literacy amongst people and providing free legal assistance to them for fulfilling the social responsibility and achieving Constitutional goal of Social, Economical and Political Justice.
- e) Special English speaking and writing classes, Extra Lectures are to be arranged for the learning disabled students to increase the passing percentage of the results of the examination.
- f) To start Competitive Examination Cell for the students to give full information about the UPSC, MPSC, Staff Selection, Judges Recruitment, Law Officers, NET, SET and other Govt. and Non Govt. organization competitive examinations.
